Synthetic training document - fictional company and figures.

Prepared Remarks Research Executive B, CEO: We entered the quarter focused on execution. Backlog remains intact, but the timing shift into 2027 reduces current-year earnings visibility. Finance Executive B, CFO: Q2 revenue was $2.08 billion and adjusted EPS was $0.98. We are updating investors on the full-year outlook. Finance Executive B, CFO: Our prior outlook was 2026 adjusted EBITDA of $1.80-$1.90 billion. We now expect 2026 adjusted EBITDA of $1.60-$1.70 billion.

Analyst Q&A; Analyst: What is the primary driver behind the change or reaffirmation in guidance? Research Executive B: The most important factors are project commissioning delays, higher financing costs, and temporary inverter-component logistics expenses. Analyst: How should investors think about the durability of demand into 2027? Research Executive B: We are separating near-term execution effects from the longer-term demand environment and will continue to update investors as visibility improves. Analyst: What are the key signposts for next quarter? Finance Executive B: Execution against operating milestones, customer timing, and margin progression are the most important signposts.
